

Summer 2023 Learning Ideas

These are activities and ideas to continue learning over the summer. They are optional and not required.

LT Activities:

- Free Phonemic Awareness Lessons with Heggerty
- Use the LT binder as a reference and resource. It includes:
  - Spelling patterns
  - Syllable patterns
  - Learned words
  - Dictation
- Incorporate words from the LT binder into games. Use words from the Read Sheet or Learned Word section, and have your child write them on index cards
- Suggested games:
  - Jenga
    - Choose a word from a deck of word cards, read it, then take your turn pulling out a block
  - Uno
    - Tape words on cards
    - Match the color or spelling pattern (instead of the number)
  - Cornhole
    - Make a sort with word cards
      - For example, put an “sh” and “ch” sign on each cornhole. Read words with sh or ch and then throw the beanbag into the correct cornhole
  - Other games such as Go Fish and Memory

Math Activities:

- Fact Practice: addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division
  - Play War with flashcards
  - Count household items, make equal groups with household items, or categorize household items

- Help prepare meals and divide food equally among people
- Money:
  - Help with paying while shopping or eating
  - Count money and make change
  - Create a budget for an activity
  - Estimation 180
- Fractions and Measurement:
  - Help with cooking and preparing meals
  - Divide food into halves, thirds, and fourths.
  - Estimate the time it might take to travel, complete the household chores, or other summer activities
- Telling Time
  - Talk about an analog clock and a digital clock
  - Talk about the “hands” on an analog clock
  - Set timers for any activity or help plan a trip or visit somewhere with a schedule

Reading Activities:

- Learning Ally Summer Reading Packet
- Read aloud recipes during cooking time, signs that you see while riding in the car, or menus at restaurants
- Listen to an audiobook or read aloud with an adult
- Visit museums in Charlotte or while on vacation and read aloud signs

Writing Activities:

- Write the grocery list
- Write your first and last name outside with chalk and your family member's names outside with chalk
- Write learned words outside with chalk or rainbow write learned words with crayons
- Make a summer journal (do not edit their writing) or create a scrapbook of summer activities
- Draw a picture and write about it